

Procedure and Tentative Schedule of Special Selective Examination for International Students

NOTE: Application forms will be distributed to only those who have received acceptance from their prospective supervisor. Those wishing to join our graduate school must contact and receive acceptance from the prospective supervisor by early-November.

Tentative Schedule (Please confirm the exact dates from your prospective supervisor.):

Mid-November: Registration of candidates for the examination by the prospective supervisor

Late-November: Distribution of Application Forms to registered candidates

Mid-December: Submission of application

Mid-February: Entrance examination

Early-March: Announcement of result

Documents to be submitted are as follows:

- (1) Application Form
- (2) Receipt of Application Fee Transfer
- (3) All diplomas or graduation certificates
- (4) Transcripts of scholastic record
- (5) Recommendation letter from the President, Dean, Department Chairman or Faculty Advisor
- (6) Certificate of proficiency in Japanese Language from a language teacher or equivalent
- (7) For the applicants of Applied Biological Chemistry and Biotechnology, Confirmation Letter signed by the prospective supervisor
- (8) For the applicants of Master's course of Agricultural and Resource Economics, a statement of the reason to apply for admission (less than 1200 words)
- (9) For the applicants of Veterinary Medical Sciences, Research Proposal
- (10) For the applicants of Doctoral course, Master's Thesis or equivalent, and summary of Master's Thesis or equivalent (Submit to the prospective supervisor directly before the examination.)
- (11) For applicants residing in Japan, a copy of Residence Card